

Srowland Water Treatment Plant, Athy, Kildare, Ireland

In 2011 Bam Civil won the contract to construct a new €22 million water treatment plant in Athy for Kildare County Council. The project was to include two new reservoirs and an in-situ concrete Intake Structure on the river bank to collect the water.

Working closely with Bam Tracey Concrete were selected as the supplier of the concrete drainage for the project.